Trial of Joseph Jordan for Murder.

An Indictment Found Against Mme. Ihl.

EVIDENCE FOR THE DEFENCE

A Wife's Inchoate Right of Dower Sustained.

The United States Circuit Court, equity side, for the April term, was opened yesterday by Judge Shipman. The calendar of cases, commencing at The argument in the demurrer in the Boucicault-Hart case is set down for this day week.

Mary A. Emory, charged with drawing a pen-sion as a soldier's widow after she had remarried, was yesterday held to answer by Commissioner Shields in $1,000.

The Society for the Reformation of Juvenile De-Inquents, in Supreme Court, Chambers, this morning, before Judge Bononue, obtained an injunction restraining any further theatrical performances at Deiker's Union Garden until the proprietor has procured a license. A similar injunction was also tained against the proprietor of Hocher's Clinton Garden.

The case of Mme. Inl, charged with having gaused the death of Mrs. Anna Josephine Curtis, late soprano at the Church of the Atonement, through an alleged abortion, was called up in the Court of Oyer and Terminer yesterday before Judge Barrett, on a writ of habeas corpus procured by Mr. William F. Howe, her counsel. Assistant District Attorney Russell stated that an indictment had been found against her by the General Sessions Grand Jury, and that in consequence no application would be entertained in this Court either for her discharge or admission to bail. Judge Barrett agreed with Mr. Russell and ordered that all other proceedings in the case take

THE JORDAN-HUFFER TRAGEDY.

The trial of Joseph Jordan indicted for murder in the first degree for killing George Huffer, was resumed yesterday before Judge Barrett in the Court of Oyer and Terminer. The prisoner, with bowed head and demeanor betokening one evidently not of sound mind, sat, half dazed, by his counsel, William F. Howe. Assistant District Attorney Russell, who is conducting the prosecution, in opening the case had stated to the jury that this was one of the lew cases of homici which came directly within the provisions of the last act as to murder, for the deliberation, as he Insisted, was evidently proved by the prisoner abarpening his knile on a steel before he went down stairs to commit the homicide, and jurner, the prisoner by strategy had obtained entrance down stairs to commit the homicide, and further, the prisoner by strategy and obtained entrance into the deceased's befroom, and then stabbed the unbidending deceased, and then early retired to his own room with the weapon in his hand. When the prisoner was interrogated as to whether he had committed the deed, he stated that he had and would do it again, having previously deliberately used the threat to kill. Some witnesses were called for the prosecution, who corroborated the testimony given on the day previous as to the deliberation of the prisoner, his preparation for the crime and contradictory statements after its commission. Here the prosecution rested.

Mr. Howe in opening for the defence alluded to the frequency of the interposition of the delence of insanity, which was in many instances unworthly put before a jury, but that where it actually existed it was, by the dispensation of the Aimighty, a decase, the ents resulting from when were not punishable by the the laws of this State. He claimed that in this case he should show that the prisoner had been a Union soldier, had been wounded in the delence of his country and had undergone difteen months of captivity in the prison pen at Andersonville. In this connection he drew a touching and vivid picture of the terprison pen at Anderson ville. In this connection be drew a touching and vivid picture of the terprison pen at Andersonville. In this connection he drew a touching and vivid picture of the terrible sufferings—deprivation of lood and water, exposure in whiter to cold, without tents and sufficient clothing, and in summer to the ourning flays of the sun—and all the norrible barbariles to which the inmates of that prison were subjected. He stated further that after the prisoner's return home he lost a londly loved wire, and became afflicted with a well known type of insanty, designated melancholia. The counset, in a very leeling address, stated that he should submit these lacts to the consideration of the jury, who he conscientsously believed would accept them as absolving the prisoner from the legal penalty for the latal act for which he was indicted. He then called numerous witnesses, corroborating his opening, showing the sofferings of the prisoner at Andersonville; that his head was much affected and that he impored under a continued decision that his deceased wile was now living. This portion of the testimony expectation has the decased wile under a continued decision that his deceased wife was now hiving. This portion of the testimony concinued, he called Drs. John C. Hannon and Charles P. Kreiger, each of whom testified, in answer to long and elaborate hypothetical questions put by Mr. Howe, that in their opinion the prisbut by Mr. Howe, that in their opinion the prisner at the time of the commission of the act for which he was indicted was insane. Mr. Russell, with considerable skill and dexterous ingenuity, gross-examined these witnesses, at the concussion of which Judge Barrett put a series of pertinent, eliocidatory questions to the medical experts. The court then adjourned till this morning, when the frial will be resumed. The impression in the court room was that the witnesses for the deJence as to the facts have established grave doubts as to the prisoner's samity.

A WIFE'S RIGHT OF DOWER.

The story has already been published how Daniel S. Youngs, a widower of fifty-two years, married a young wife of twenty-three; how he told the young wife before their marriage that he owned $150,000 worth of real estate in this city; how she married him supposing that he still retained possession of this property; how, after their marriage, she discovered that four days previous to the tying of the connubial knot he had conveyed his property to his two daughters, Mrs. Hannau M. Carter and Nettle Youngs, and how she thereupon left him and brought suit in the Supreme Court, Special Term, before Judge Van Brunt, to decime such conveyance void on the ground of its being in fraud of her inchoate right of dower.
Judge Van Brunt gave a decision in the case yesterday embodying the same in a lengtay opinion.
The effect of this conveyance, Judge Van Brunt says, after reciting the facts of the case, made on the eve of marriage and evidently in contemplation of its occurrence, if upheld by the Court is to deprive the plaintiff of her inchoate right of dower in the premises in question and the possition of its occurrence, it upnels by the Court is to deprive the plaintist of ner inchoate right of dower in the premises in question and the possibility of her time to dower becoming consummated in the event that she survives her husband. He holds that the provisions of law in respect of flower are intended for the support of the widow and the nurture of her children. After recting yarbous authorities in support of this proposition, he holds further that the equity of the husband to his whie's estate is of no higher character than the equity of the whie's to her husband's; that inchoate right of dower is such an interest as the law win protect from injury, and that the plaintist in this case has unquestioned claims for relief upon principles of reason and justice and through the application of an analygous doctrine of equity. The deed executed before her marriage under the facts and circumstances of the case should have no other effect on her rights and interests than if executed afterward. It is asked by the plaintist that the deed executed by her husband to his daughters should be declared void as to the present interest which, but for the deed, the plaintist would have—that is to say, her inchoate right of dower and her inture absolute right of dower in case of the death of her busband in her litetime. He holds, in conclusion, that to this extent she is entitled to relief, and he orders judgment accordingly.

MURPHY SENTENCED TO DEATH. THE MURDERER OF MES. HUJUS TO BE EXE-CUTED ON MAY 14.

Michael Murphy, the convicted murderer of Mrs. Hujus, was resentenced to suffer the extreme penalty of the law by the Supreme Court, General Term, of Kings county, yesterday forenoon. The unfortunate man was tried before the Rockland County Court of Oyer and Terminer held in New City last fall, and the evidence, through circumstantial, being regarded as conclusive by the jury he was sentenced to be executed. The details of the case are familiar to the readers of the HERALD. Pending the execution of the sentence, a writ of error was obtained and a stay of proceedings was granted by Judge Donahue. Argument for a new trial was heard by the Supreme Court, General Term, and a bill of exceptions was filed. To learn the decision upon the bill of exceptions Murphy was brought into the Kings County Court House, and before a full Bench, Judges Ghoert, Tappen and Pratt, about half-hast eleven o'clock yesterday forenoon. The prisoner, who is about forty-two years of age, stout and short in stature, with a stolid, heavy expression of countenance, was prought handcaned before the bar of justice. He was escorted by Sheriff Charles E. Benson and eight deputies of Rockland county, Mr. Henry Daily, the counsel for Murphy, was absent. The District Attorney of Rockland county, Mr. Seth B. Cole, then rose and said, "H Your Honors please, I move that sentence be passed upon the prisoner." Murphy laid his cap down on a chair, and with a guastly white face and his dark, appealing eyes bent upon the countenance of the presiding Judge, tremolingly listened to the decision which was to decide the period of his sojourn on earth.

decision which was to decide the period of his sojourn on earth.
Judge Gilbert, who appeared slightly agitated, in passing the sentence of death, said:—"Murphy, we have given your case a very careful consideration, to see if we could detect any error in your trial, but we have been unable to find any error, and the application to confirm your conviction is granted. Our only remaining duty is that of fixing the time of your execution. This we fix upon the lith day of May, Friday, between the hours of ten in the morning and two o'clock in the afternoon." The doomed man hesitated for a moment, and then, in an impressive, quiet, earnest tone, said:—"Your Honor, I was never in Rockland county any more than that desk there was (pointing to the reportary table); never did I lift a foot in it any more than a man who was never born." As he spoke he raised his shackled hands above his head.
Judge Gilbert—I hope for your own sake, him.

ries. The President, Judge Daly, read a list of ninety-five annicants for admission to memberahip of the society, some forty of whom were officers of the Engineer corps of the army, and which was unanimously approved. He then presented to the audience Mr. Alvan S. Southworth, the Recording Secretary of the society.

In opening his address, Mr. Southworth announced his intention of speaking of the new State of Colorado and his experiences during a lour months' ride as a member of Dr. Hayden's expeof Colorado and his experiences during a lour months' ride as a memoer of Dr. Hayden's expedition last year. And first, referring to the inhabitants, he said of the young:—Affuring luxuries have not yet seduced them from the hardiest and noblest of Saxon pleasures. None of the physical deterioration said to be concomitant of the higher civilizations can be observed among those who carried good health to the Territories flanked by the Rocky Montains; but instead, there is added strength and power. The natives of Anglo-Saxon parentage are uniformly healthy and—curious fact—are uniformly blonder, regardless of the complexion of their progenitors, the settlers devote themserves to stock raising rather than farming and by industry in this branch are generally enabled, in the course of five years, to acquire a small competence. Every rance, as the stock farms are called, is a hotel. The owner holds nimbed in readiness to leed the travelier at moderate rates, and this is ano inconsiderable source of his revenue.

After referring to the scientific results of Processor Hayden's expectition, Mr. Southworth suggested attention to the lonewing maxims on the part of those purposing to visit or settle in Golorado:—First, beware of rose-colored pampalets; second, move with deliberation and hever rush with the crowds; third, divide all dazzling enterprises by four and ask yourself it you can afford to lose the quotient; lourth, harrow guage railroads are the surest lorerunners of a healthy civilization. In conclusion the speaker said—I saw there nothing out the bloom and ceauty of the present and the golden promise of the inture. The terrors described by the early explorers had passed away; the dangerous beasts, untouched, displayed no aggressive lerocity; the early miscreants, who killed and plundered, had dred or laten into honest pursuits; the wild gold lever was subsiding into a regular and organized busines; towns and caties were putting on the manner of our social East.

Addering the first proceeded to read a paper on th putting on the manner of our social East.

Address By MR. INGERSOLI.

Mr. Ernest ingersoil was then presented to the addresse, and proceeded to read a paper on the Remains of the Ancient Civilization in the Canyons of the San Juan. He divided the Indians of New Mexico and Arizona into two divisions—the Pimas and ained tribes, dwelling in the valley of the Rio Gila and southward, and the Puebos and Moguis, at present restricted to the table lands between the Rio Colorado and Rio Grande north of the Little Colorado. The ancient character and mbits of these—as illustrated in the ruins of the country—and their present condition were described, and stereoptican views of great variety were and stereoption views of great Variety

The water at the surface is violently disturbed for a space of about tuirty set in diameter. The first day we crossed this place the water was coming up with such violence as to throw the sinp from her course, and the second time, athough it was smooth, the vessel could be kept on her course out for a short time. The soundings in the centre of the spring gave twenty-turee fathoms, and a specimen of the oottom of very clear broken small shells. The soundings from the centre to the limits of the disturbed water decreased to nine fathoms. The water at the surface is bracklish." The superintendent has directed a minute ex-smination of the spring and its immediate locality to be made.

A DELEGATION FROM TAMMANY HALL AMONG THE LEGISLATORS-REBELLION STILL RAM-PANT-AN ATTEMPT TO REMOVE THE PRESENT ALBANY, March 30, 1875.

A DELEGATION FROM TAMMANY. A committee from Tammany Hail is here to-night, consisting of Colonel John R. Fellows, Edward L. Donnelly and William A. Boyd, to look after legislation affecting New York city. A lecture has been read to the delegation from the metropolis by Mr. John Keily. It is understood this committee comes up to see that the gentleman's instructions are carried out fully. A bitter fight it is presumed will ensue on the Civil Justices' bill. Under this enactment it is proposed to elect the Judges on a genticket throughout the wnole city, and not by districts, as at present constituted. Next fall these offices are to be filled, and a number of ambitious aspirants have already come to the front in hope of securing the prizes thus to be awarded; but a serious opposition has arisen here to the passage of the bill. Several of the New York delegation are outspoken against its provisions. They allege that it is another movement at centralization in Tammany Hall. If the bill passes in its present shape the Civil Justices will be nominated in the County Convention instead of by districts, as formerly. This throws the naming of the nominees into the hands of the Committee on Organization, which, of course, is Mr. John Kelly, One of the New York democratic Senators with whom I conversed to-night stated that he was willing to centralize the whole power of the party in Mr. Kelly, as he believed the interests of the people would be protected by that gentleman. Another representative was not quite so sanguine in the good sense of this policy. He did not think it fair to take away all the power and patronage and hand it over to one or two men in Tammany Hall. He thought this conduct must nitimately result in disrupting the party in the city and that a new deal would become necessary.

The Canal Message, exposing frauds which nave been the subject of investigation, speeches, constitutional amendments, political harangues and platform speeches for the past thirty years and more, has buried for a moment those questions of city legislation.

TAMMANY POWERLESS.

The death of the Costigan bill has given evidence that no measures emanating from Tammany Hall or Mayor Wickham effectually interiering with passed by this Legislature. Senator Booth's bill, embodying the main points suggested in the memorial of Comptroller Green, is likely to page. THE DEPOSIT BILL

It is also understood that the wily Comptroller's name will be added to those of Mayor Wickham and Chamberlain Tappan in the bill now before the Senate regulating the deposits of New York city moneys. A concurrent vote of those three gentiemen will be necessary in designating the bank or banks for deposits. The bill has been re-committed to the Committee on Cities of the Senate for the purpose of inserting tuose amend-of the presiding sides, tremolingly listened to the decison which was to decide the period of his sojourn on earth.

Judge Gilbert, who appeared slightly agitated, in passing the sentence of death, said:—"hurphy, we have given your case a very carend consideration, to see if we could detect any error in your trial, but we have been unable to find any error, and the application to confirm your conviction is granted. Our only remaining duty is that of fixing the time of your execution. This we fix upon the 14th day of May, Priday. Detween the bours of ten in the morning and two o'clock in the atternoon." The doomed man hesitated for a moment, and then, in an impressive, quiet, earnest tone, said:—"Your Honor, I was never in Rockland county any more than that desk there was (pointing to the reporters) table); never did I lilt a foot in it any more than anaw who was never norm." As ne spoke he raised his shackled hands above his head. Judge Gilbert—I nope for your own sake, aurphy, that this may be true. city of New York was only deprived in a peculiar emergency, for a particular reason and by a special act, which should now be repeated. It has been said that the object of the bili was merely to permit the present Mayor for remove a particular office holder, who is thought to be considered in New York an obstacle to good government, but who is supposed to have such hold upon and control over the present Governor as to be able to assure himself that the Governor will not approve of his removal even for cause, should it be attempted by the Mayor. That is maniestly a mere slander. The present Mayor is a citizen too well known and of a character too exalted, of a sense of responsibility for his official acts and of a degree of regard for the public good altogether too large to allow of the suggestion that he would use any power vested in him with an unworthy motive. And the present distinguished Governor is, in every respect, lar beyond the reach of possibility of control or of improper influence. His administration of his high office may be relied upon to be with the most conscientious regard for his official dates, and it is not to be suspected for a moment that he would hesitate to approve a removal of even his previously most intimate friend if made and certified by the Mayor for reasonable causes and supported by valid reasons. It has been said also that this bill will enable the Mayor to remove the Police Justices in the city of New York and other judicial officers. This, too, is a miscauses and supported by valid reasons. It has been said also tant this bill wil enable the Mayor to remove the Police Justices in the city of New York and other judicial officers. This, too, is a mistake. The Police Justices were appointed under an act of date subsequent to that of the charter of which this bill is an amendment, and can only be removed by a process of impeacament before the Court of Common Pleas, as specially provided in the law under which they were appointed. No Judicial officer is affected under the provisions of this bill relate only to neads of departments and other superior officers in the city government. That, too, is a mistake. At present, and under the provisions of the existing caarter, not merely the heads of departments and other superior officers, but the city marsans, the inspectors of weights and measures, and cach and an of the petry and freesponsible subordinate officers hold their places by a lenure which is secure against the attempts of the Mayor, or of any other local authority, to remove one of them for even a cause for which the offender may be indicted and sentenced by a court. No one of the officers referred to in section 25 of the charter, or mentioned or referred to in section 25 of the charter. or mentioned or referred to in section 25 of the charter, or mentioned or perfect of the state, which may, unavoidably or by design, be indefinitely denyed."

Senator Gross spoke for over an hour and was followed by Senator Woodin, who concluded his remarks in ten minutes. The motion to disagree with the adverse report on the bill was then put and lost by a strict party vote as follows:—Aves—Messrs, Bradley, Dayton, Fox, Gross, Jacobs, Jonnson, Laning, Ledwith, Lord, Moore, Parmenter, Ray—12. MONTHS OF MARCH AND APRIL

THE RICH. DOUBLE, at New York FOR THE STREET OUT. On the 1st store boat, and on the 24th lost pibboom. She was making 30 strokes on her strival.

The schooner reported as having sprung aleak at Orient, i.l., was the Rhoda Holmes, and not the Alice Borda, as beore reported. The Alice Borda arrived at New York March 27, to load for Cuba.

The Penobacot River, between Reliast and Castine, is still firmly ice locked.

The arrival of the bark Antelope may be called a novel incident in the lattory of the port. It is many years since a full square rigged three masted vessel has tain at our wharves, and we doubt if there were more than one here before.—Now wich Bulletin, March 28.

Batrimone, March 29—Denis Dorochue, the British Consul at this port, has made the necessary arrangements for the return of the shipwrecked sailors who were brought to this city on Sunday on board of the German steamer Auruberg They will leave on board of the English steamer Casplan on Thursday morning next, and be taken to Hairiax, NS, from whence they will be conveyed to St Marys, NF.

Haufrax, NS, March 30, Brig. Avial. Som.

HALIFAX, NS. March 30-Brig Ariel, from Portsmouth for st Johns, NF, 69 days out, arrived here to day, having been unable to reach St Johns on account of the ice. The crew were frozen and short of provisions. The crew were frozen and short of provisions.
